

Since January 2010, about 25 PhD students have started to work in diverse research groups of five partner institutions. After getting familiar with the idea of the project it will also be nice to get to know you, the persons working on C₄, A₁, B₃, A₃, C₁, B₄.... We therefore would like to invite you to

Workshop for all PhD students of SFB Roseobacter

"Who are you" and "What is Watt"?

Date: 26-28 November 2010 (Friday evening to Sunday noon)

Location: Meeresbiologische Wattstation der Universität Münster
Friedrichsgroden 16
26409 Wittmund-Carolinensiel

Participants: All PhD students of the SFB Roseobacter

Preliminary Programme:

Date	Day	Time of day	Activity
26.11.	Fr	afternoon	Arrival in Carolinensiel
		evening	Welcome Activity X
27.11.	Sa	morning	Presentation: Development of the coast Excursion to the Wadden Sea (World Heritage)
		afternoon	Activity Y ☺
		evening	Activity Z
28.11.	Su	morning	Breakfast
		noon	Departure

Registration: Please send an email to birte.junge@uni-oldenburg.de up to 30 Oct. 2010.

Benefit: 1 Credit point, fresh air and much fun!

See you in Carolinensiel!

Best regards,

Tanja Piekarski & Birte Junge
Coordinator of SFB-Research Training Group

