

With around 17,000 students and 3,800 employees, Technische Universität Braunschweig is the largest Institute of Technology in northern Germany. We are known for our strategic and performance-oriented thinking and acting, top-level research, highly committed lecturers and a successful transfer of knowledge and technologies into industry and society. We are dedicated to creating a family-friendly environment and advocate for equal opportunities.

Our core research areas are Mobility, Engineering for Health, Metrology, and the City of the Future. A strong focus is placed on engineering and the natural sciences, with a close link of our core disciplines to the economics, social and educational sciences as well as the humanities.

Our campus is located in the middle of one of Europe's research hotspots, where we have established a successful working relationship—both with the more than 20 research facilities in our neighbourhood and our international partner universities.

The Institute for English and American Studies at TU Braunschweig is looking for a qualified and motivated

Contract Teacher in the field of British Phonetics and Pronunciation

to teach two courses on British Phonetics and Pronunciation starting from winter semester 2023/24. The courses are part of the bachelor's language practice courses and will cover topics such as the articulation and transcription of British English sounds, the phonological system, and variations of British English. The teacher will be responsible for preparing and delivering lectures, grading assignments and exams, and providing feedback and guidance to students. The courses are in-person and will be 4 SWS (Semesterwochenstunden) in total.

The ideal candidate for this position should have:

- A bachelor's degree or higher in English studies or a related field
- Native or near-native proficiency in British English
- Experience in teaching phonetics and pronunciation at the university level
- Knowledge of current theories and methods in phonetics and pronunciation teaching
- Familiarity with online teaching platforms and tools
- A willingness to collaborate with other team members of the faculty

We welcome applicants of all nationalities. At the same time, we encourage people with severe disabilities to apply. Applications from severely disabled persons will be given preference if they are equally qualified. Please attach a form of evidence of your handicap to your application. We are also working on the fulfilment of the Central Equality Plan based on the Lower Saxony Equal Rights Act (Niedersächsisches Gleichberechtigungsgesetz—NGG) and strive to reduce under-representation in all areas and positions as defined by the NGG. Therefore, applications from women are particularly welcome in this case.

The personal data will be stored for the purpose of processing the application. By submitting your application, you agree that your data may be stored and processed electronically for application purposes in compliance with the provisions of data protection law. Further information on data protection can be found in our data protection regulations at <https://www.tu-braunschweig.de/datenschutzerklaerung-bewerbungen>. Application costs cannot be reimbursed.

If you are interested in this opportunity, please send your CV and a sample syllabus for the British Phonetics course to Dr. Kenton E. Barnes at k.barnes@tu-braunschweig by August 15, 2023. Please indicate "Application - British Phonetics" in the subject line of your email.
